

The Art Scene 12.11.14

Local Food News

By Mark Segal | December 9, 2014 - 11:10am

Linda Stein in “Women Only”

New work by Linda Stein, an artist who divides her time between East Hampton and New York City, will be included in “Women Only,” an exhibition of the work of five artists opening today at the Flomenhaft Gallery in Chelsea and remaining on view through Feb. 21. An reception will take place today from 6 to 8 p.m.

Ms. Stein will be showing a selection of mixed-media tapestries depicting women who displayed different aspects of bravery during the Holocaust. The subjects include Anne Frank, Yukiko Sugihara, and Hannah Senesh.

The tapestries will begin to travel in October 2015, under the title “Holocaust Heroes: Fierce Females,” with stops now scheduled for Miami and Boca Raton, Fla.